BIG FOUR MAKE AGREEMENT TO GUARD INTERESTS IN PACIFIC AND END WAR MENACE FOR TEN YEARS

All Disputes Will be Submitted to Conference for Adjustment; Anglo-Japanese Alliance Will be Terminated; Year's Notice to Break Treaty

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Formal announcement was made to the world today that the United States, Great Britain, Japan and France have entered into a new world treaty designed to protect each other's interests in the Pacific and to end for at least ten years the menace of war in those waters. Under the terms of the treaty, the four powers agree:

First—The powers agree to respect each other's insular possessions in the Pacific and to submit disputes that may arise to common conference for adjustment and consideration.

Second—If the rights of either of the signatory powers are threatened by another power, the signers of the treaty will confer together for the purpose of taking action either separately or jointly.

Third—The treaty shall remain in force for ten years, subject to the right of any one of the powers to terminate it upon one year's notice.

Fourth—Upon ratification of the treaty by the constitutional agencies of each country, the Anglo-Japanese alliance, which is so obnoxious to America shall be terminated.

Upon Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, the chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, and the bitter foe of the League of Nations, evolved the duty of making the momentous announcement to the fourth plenary session of the conference.

Other Nations Agree

In a brief speech he read the terms of the treaty entered into to a breathless audience, which included many senators who later will be called on to ratify the words he enunciated.

Within fifteen minutes after Senator Lodge had finished speaking, Rene Viviani, head of the French delegation, addressed the conference and announced that France unreservedly approved the treaty.

After Viviani had announced France's acceptance of the pact, A. J. Balfour took the floor and formally accepted it on behalf of Great Britain.

Japan followed England, through Prince Tokugawa voicing her formal acceptance of the pact.

China Also Approves

Senator Schanzer, head of the Italian delegation, followed Prince Tokugawa of Japan, announcing Italy's concurrence in the proposed four-partite agreement.

China announced her concurrence in the treaty. Even though not a party to it, Minister Sze said China welcomed it as designed to keep "the general peace of the Pacific."

The other smaller powers—Holland and Belgium and Portugal—through brief statements by their spokesmen, gave their approval of the pact.

Treaty Not Yet Signed

When they had all finished, Secretary Hughes adjourned the conference by stating:

"We have been dealing, gentlemen, with a very simple paper. It brings to mind that all great things are simple.

"When this agreement takes effect, I firmly believe we will have gone further in the direction of securing permanent peace than in anything that has yet been done."

The treaty was not signed today, only initialed. The actual attachment of signatures will be delayed until the Unted States and Japan conclude their private negotiations with regard to the island of Yap.

HIGH SCHOOL SITES AGAIN DISCUSSED; PROPOSE PARADE

Visit to Both These Properties Scheduled to Take Place One Week From Today

"Is there anybody present who has any particular choice between these two sites?" casually inquired J. C. Sherer, chairman of last night's mass meeting in the Broadway school for the purpose of discussing a new high school site.

That was the spark which ignited the argument. It seems that several people had opinions.

"I have expressed myself on one or two occasions before," remarked Alex Mitchell, first to take advantage of the opportunity to talk. He proceeded to belittle the assertion that the placing of a high school at Broadway and Verdugo Road would be an advertisement for the city on account of the number of motorists who would observe it by calling attention to the fact that Southern Pacific trains between Los Angeles and San Francisco pass within sight of the Grey site and that about 2,000 passengers a day would have an opportunity to admire a high school placed there.

'Not for Advertising'

"To lay joking aside," said Mr. Mitchell. "You are not building a high school for advertising purposes. You are building it to educate the rising generation."

That the Luken's site would be selected upon the ballot and that considerable difficulty would be experienced in inducing the citizens of the west side to vote bonds for the erection of the buildings was the prediction of Mr. Mitchell. He declared that he had no objection to the purchase of the east side site, but thought that a west side site ought to be bought at the same time for future needs because property would never be so reasonable as now. Mr. Mitchell asserted that Mr. Luken's had always made money off his orange groves and that there wasn't any reason why the school board couldn't do so if it wanted to buy the property as an investment.

"There is no use to get into a fight about this," declared Mr. Mitchell.

REV. W. E. EDMONDS TO OBSERVE TENTH ANNIVERSARY

Presbyterian Pastor to Give Special Sermon; Tells of New Building Plans

The tenth anniversary of his acceptance of the pulpit at the First Presbyterian church will be observed tomorrow by Rev. W. E. Edmonds with a special sermon for the occasion, entitled, "An Instrument of Ten Strings."

Rev. Edmonds

"I suppose the most outstanding thing about this church has been its wonderful spirit of co-operation," declared Rev. Edmonds this morning. "I never saw anything like it. The congregation right from the start has been willing to carry out all plans for the best interests of the church. This spirit was manifest in the building of the present church, when I first came, and in the campaign now on foot for the financing of the new house of worship. Every department of the church has shown this splendid spirit of co-operation. This has been especially true among the men of the church in the work of the joint board and the men's Bible class which meets in the city hall.

To 'Ripe' Old Age

"I hope to stay here in Glendale until my work is done. If I keep feeling as young as I do now I probably will live to be around 90 or 95. My birthdays keep getting younger.

"I feel very definitely that I made no mistake in coming to Glendale. It always appeared to me that there was a splendid future here. The spirit of co-operation was manifest then just as it is now.

"The church has had a steady growth right straight along. Each

CHRISTMAS SERVICE AT THORNYCROFT, LEGION'S PLAN

Disabled Veterans Will Be Given Fitting Ceremony; Nominate Officials

Glendale Post, No. 127, American Legion, made tentative arrangements at last night's regular meeting for the staging this year of the most elaborate and beautiful Christmas charity services in the history of the organization,

As has been the custom for the past two years, the principal purpose of the Legionnaires' movements will be to make the coming Yuletide merrier for the ex-service men who are patients at the Thornycroft hospital.

With more than half a hundred former "buddies" in the institution now, a good percentage of whom are confined to their beds, the American Legion intends to make every heart happy for their former comrades.

According to Gerald Delgardo, first vice commander of the post and chairman of the sickness and charity committee, who will be in charge of the exercises, the present plans include individual Christmas trees for the bedridden patients and a large tree on the lawn of the hospital for the others.

A communication was read last night from the representatives of the local chapter of the Women's Auxiliary, stating that that organization would offer its services for special charity work during Christmas week. A more complete announcement of the holiday exercises will be made within a few days.

Nominations for Officers

Last night was the second meeting of the Legionnaires in which nominations for officers for the coming year were made. Following is a complete list of the candidates who have been chosen to run for the various positions:

GLENDALE AVENUE RAIL LINE WILL SOON BE ELECTROLIZED, SAYS COUNCILMAN S. A. DAVIS

'Passengers May Get On Cars at East Broadway And Ride to Exposition Park for 10 Cents' Declares City Official at Club Meeting

THAT THE GLENDALE AVENUE line of the Salt Lake railroad will soon be electrolized and passengers may get on cars at East Broadway and ride to Exposition Park, Los Angeles, for 10 cents, was told the meeting of the Glendale Avenue Improvement association in the council chamber of the city hall last night by S. A. Davis of the city council, who was one of the committee to confer with officials of the Salt Lake branch of the Union Pacific railroad.

"This I believe will be the greatest thing that has happened for Glendale," said Councilman Davis. The news was received by the meeting with considerable applause and enthusiasm.

In calling the meeting to order Harry C. Levey, president of the Glendale Avenue Improvement association, gave a brief outline of the work that had been done by the association, stating that six or seven petitions asking for the electrolization of the avenue and the removal of steam freight traffic, were ready for presentation to the city council, and that organization had already conferred with the officials of the Salt Lake branch of the Union Pacific railroad. President Levey pledged the support of the association in all the city council attempted for the good of Glendale. Councilman Davis was then called on to give a report of the meeting.

Proposition Submitted

"We met with the officials of the railroad last Monday," said Mr. Davis, "and every one of them expressed much surprise at the growth of our city, saying they had no idea Glendale had grown and developed so much. We submitted a proposition to the officials which they took back with them to submit to the vice-president of the road at Omaha, and while I am not in a position to promise anything definite as yet, I will say that I believe we are going to have electric cars on Glendale avenue and that passengers may ride from Broadway to Exposition park for 10 cents. This, I believe, will be the greatest thing that has ever happened for Glendale."

City Manager W. H. Reeves expressed his belief that Glendale avenue would soon be electrolized by saying:

"The officials of the Salt Lake Branch of the Union Pacific were astonished at the rapid development of our city and learned a great deal during their visit here.

"I believe we are going to have Glendale avenue electrolized from one end to the other and have a modernized thoroughfare. Of course, there are many little details to be worked out yet, but I believe it can and will be done and feel very encouraged over the proposition.

"The officials could not realize so many people lived along Glendale avenue, and I stated that I thought there were 100 passengers waiting along that avenue for service to every one passenger along Brand boulevard waiting for the Pacific Electric before that line was built."

Councilman Davis then added that the city council was going right ahead and see the deal through without further urging.

President Levey, in behalf of the association, extended a vote of thanks to the councilmen for the interest the city has taken in the matter of electrolizing Glendale avenue.

Talks for School Bonds

At the close of the meeting Peter L. Ferry spoke a few words for the bond election, saying:

"As chairman of the committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to assist the high school trustees in this matter of a bond election, I looked over both the sites which are now being discussed for a new high school. One is the Grey site on Doran street and the other is at the corner of Verdugo Road and Broadway. After looking over both carefully the committee finally selected the latter of 21½ acres at a price of $78,000, and recommended this to the high school trustees The bond election is December 29 at which time the people will vote on raising $85,000 worth of bonds. My advice is for every one to look over both the proposed high school sites before voting. But whatever the opinion regarding these sites, everyone should attend this bond election."

The meeting then adjourned subject to the call of the president.

HIGH SCHOOL SITES AGAIN DISCUSSED; PROPOSE PARADE

Visit to Both These Properties Scheduled to Take Place One Week From Today

"We would rather see a high school on the east side than none at all. I caution you folks not to go asleep. We are all asleep on the west side. They will do their hollering over there after the thing is over."

Denies They 'Are Asleep'

W. D. Root stated that too much credence must not be placed in Mr. Mitchell's allegation that the west side was dormant because he happened to know that the residents there were very active.

"I am certainly in favor of a high school on the east side on account of the windstorms, the wash and also because of the population we are going to have on the east side," declared J. F. Chandler.

O. B. Newbie, who has lived within one block of the "wash" since 1908, explained the cause of the overflow in 1912 and stated his opinion that this would never happen again.

That practically all of the land west of the Grey site to San Fernando Road is below the level of the wash, likely to be inundated and therefore uncultivated and unfit for home sites, was the assertion of C. W. Ingledue, who stated that he had made an investigation with measuring instruments.

There was considerable discussion over the number of residents and the quality of homes in this territory.

Various Discussions

"Facts are the things that tell," stated Rev. A. B. Smart, demonstrating from a home-made map the fact that a strip of country on either side of the wash is "a physiographic interval and likely to be flooded."

C. W. Young of Eagle Rock called attention to the point raised in favor of the Grey site that it would be near the new municipal swimming pool.

"If some of the statements here are true," he said, "that will be the largest plunge in the world."

That an active campaign for the east side site should be pushed in southern Glendale was the suggestion of H. C. Levey, president of the Glendale Avenue Improvement association.

"I don't blame Mr. Grey for trying to sell that property," declared Peter L. Ferry vehemently. "If I owned it I would try awfully hard to sell it, too."

A. C. Elrod offered to take anyone to visit the two sites in his auto.

George Mishler stated that he didn't see the reason for all the argument when campaign work was needed.

Plan Automobile Parade

An automobile parade to take voters on a trip of inspection to both the Lukens and Grey high school sites is being arranged for next Saturday.

Rev. A. B. Smart moved at last night's mass meeting in the Broadway school that such action be taken.

C. W. Ingledue excused himself from serving upon the committee.

C. W. Young of Eagle Rock stated that he would rather not act upon the committee as he thought it should be managed by Glendale residents, but admitted that he was willing to make himself useful if his services were desired.

A. C. Elrod and K. C. Sipple, other appointees to the committee, made no comment.

Checks Beginning to Come Forward for Float Fund

More and more interest is being taken in the success of the Glendale float in the Tournament of Roses parade, if contributions to the fund is any criterion. Practically all of the civic organizations in the city are doing their share and a week from today everybody in town will be tagged, it is planned.

Mrs. C. B. Wyman, writing for the High School Parent-Teacher association, says: "The High School P.-T. A. heartily approves of the New Year's float and wishes to subscribe $10 toward it. We would very much like to make the amount larger, but we have a comparatively small organization and so are somewhat handicapped as to funds. Perhaps if some of the Chamber of Commerce people who have children in the high school would join our organization we could more adequately meet our civic obligations."

A check for $5 was received today from the Thursday Afternoon club, and James Forbes subscribed $2.50 to the fund. "Who will give another $10 or $5 or $1?" asks Secretary James M. Rhoades of the Chamber of Commerce, who is acting treasurer of the float fund committee.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Dec. 10.—One man was instantly killed and more than a score of others had narrow escapes from death here today when the Standard Oil tanker Comet blew up. The dead man, Thomas Amplain of Boston, was literally blown to pieces. The tanker immediately burst into flames and for a time neighboring shipping and buildings were endangered. The tug Standard Oil got a line on to the burning vessel and towed her out into the river.

ATTORNEY ERBSTEIN QUITS MRS. OBENCHAIN'S DEFENCE

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—Charles E. Erbstein, Chicago attorney, today announced his withdrawal as counsel for Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, jointly charged with Arthur C. Burch in Los Angeles with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy. In a lengthy statement Erbstein set forth that attacks made upon him by Thomas Lee Woolwine, Los Angeles district attorney, and by Maclay Hoyne, former state's attorney here, had hampered his usefulness to Mrs. Obenchain's case and caused him to decide to withdraw.

SURPRISE WITNESSES WILL TESTIFY AGAINST BURCH

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10.—Surprise witnesses to testify that Arthur C. Burch, on trial for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, unwittingly betrayed himself when he was arrested at Las Vegas, Nevada, a few days after the slaying, will, it is reported, be called to the stand by District Attorney Woolwine next week. There was no session of the trial today. The testimony of these new witnesses for the prosecution, it was learned, will deal with a telegram sent by Burch to a Los Angeles lawyer a few hours after he was taken from the train at Las Vegas by Sheriff Sam Gay on orders from authorities here and practically admitted at least knowledge of the Kennedy killing, Woolwine will contend.

CATHOLIC CHURCH FOR RATIFICATION IRISH TREATY

DUBLIN, Dec. 10.—The powerful influence of the Roman Catholic church today swung in favor of ratification of the Irish peace treaty. Cardinal Logue, primate of Ireland, the highest Catholic prelate in the land, accused Eamonn DeValera of acting unfairly in his opposition to the pact. "I favor ratification of the treaty," said Cardinal Logue. "I think that DeValera in his message to the Irish people acted unfairly and prejudiced the decision of Dail Eireann. I shall probably call a meeting of Roman Catholic bishops early next week to discuss the situation. It is my opinion that the country should be consulted." The revelation that the Roman Catholic church is favorable to ratification of the treaty gave tremendous impetus to the movements of the "peace party" headed by Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins.

EDWARDS & WILDEY LOCAL OFFICE HAS NEW MANAGERS

Well-Known Men Given Charge in Glendale; Subdivisions Will Be Opened Up

The promotion to a joint managership of the Glendale office of the Edwards & Wildey Company, at 139 North Brand boulevard, has brought to the front W. P. MacMullin and W. A. Macpherson, well known in local real estate circles.

Mr. MacMullin it is reported knows more Glendale residents than any other one person. He has long been a prominent salesman of the Edwards & Wildey forces here.

Mr. Macpherson has been connected with the Los Angeles office of the Edwards & Wildey Company for many years having joined them soon after leaving college. Both of these men own considerable property in Glendale.

Property Purchased

The purchase of the Helen W. Neighbor's property on Kenneth road directly across the street from the Charles H. Toll property and the purchase of the Olmstead property on Pacific avenue near Kenneth road are announced by the Edwards & Wildey Company.

Both plats are being subdivided into attractive large residence lots. The first subdivision at present is largely covered with full bearing orange and lemon groves.

Both Mr. MacMullin and Mr. Macpherson expect a whirlwind sale in these tracts.

The Edwards & Wildey Company has always taken an active interest in the development of Glendale and have opened a number of tracts here. The local office of the company, it is announced, remains at 139 North Brand boulevard, where salesmen are ready to show a large listing of lots, homes and business properties.

J. C. Sherer States His Position Upon Turning Over Fees

A communication has been issued by J. C. Sherer to the Glendale Evening News as follows:

"In a report of a meeting of the Glendale City Council Monday night, as reported by the city manager acting as clerk and appearing in your yesterday's issue, it is stated that 'J. C. Sherer was ordered to turn into the city treasury all fees received by him while acting as city clerk since July 1, 1921.'

"In its implication this is grossly misleading. The city clerk very promptly upon resigning that position to accept the position of treasurer turned over to the treasury all monies that he had received in the capacity of city clerk.

"A month later, however, he received from the Los Angeles county auditor a check for $40.25 payable to him personally for acting as local registrar of births and deaths under appointment of the State Board of Health.

"This sum, under the law governing sixth class cities, does not belong to the municipality but individually to the local registrar. This has not within the writer's knowledge been disputed before.

"There is a possibility that the adoption of a charter changes this and, if it is so made clear to the ex-city clerk, the city treasury will receive the money demanded."

George Jordan Is Editor-in-Chief for 1922 Stylus

The senior class of the Glendale Union High school has made its appointments to the staff of the 1922 Stylus.

Fred Terzo will see that live snapshots get into the publication; Vic Colburn will cover sports and Richard Pomeroy has charge of the class pictures.

Departments are being edited by Herbert Bruck, Marjorie Yarick, Virginia Huntley, Helen Ponton, Lucy Strother and Elizabeth Sternberg.

As faculty advisers are Normal C. Hayhurst, Miss Yennie Y. Freeman, Miss Mary Beth Abbott and Rhea Baker.

Miss Viola Yorba to Be Soloist Sunday at Theatre Concert

Miss Viola Yorba, queen of the American Legion carnival recently and Spanish dancer and singer of note, will be the soloist of the Glendale Theatre's Sunday evening concert in conjunction with Paul Carson's organ recital.

Miss Yorba has an appealing contralto voice which won praise from Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink. The selections to be heard are the ever popular melodies of old Spain—"La Paloma" and "La Golondrina."

Mr. Carson will feature F. B. Silverwood's "I Love You, California." The feature film will be "What Do Men Want?"—the answer to the million dollar question propounded by Peggy Joyce, maybe.

The Little Church of the Flowers, with Crematory and Receiving Vaults adjoining Forest Lawn Cemetery is another mortuary requisite operated in unity with the Mausoleum-Columbarium, Crematory and Receiving Vaults.

All services are held in the "Little Church of the Flowers," which, in its setting of green foliage and colorful blossoms, is a pleasant reminder of England's ivy-mantled village churches.

It derives its name from the mass of flowers filling the cloistered recesses on both sides of the nave.

How difficult to portray the floral and woodland charm, the peaceful atmosphere of Beautiful Forest Lawn. We have tried to do it by picture and narrative in a handsome booklet. Ask for it.

EIFFEL TOWER OF MILK

So enormous is the consumption of condensed milk in various forms that a year's supply would be no light burden for all the soldiers at present serving in the world's armies. To get a more vivid conception of its vastness, let us fashion a column from the hundreds of millions of tins which contain it; we shall then find that our column, standing on a base one hundred feet square, will rise higher than the summit o fthe Eiffel tower. Its height, in fact, will be 1,106 feet, and on its top there will be comfortable standing room for four battalions of soldiers.

At the age of 80, Miss Marie Redding is considered as the dean of Atlanta's business women.

A MISS AND A MILE

"I came very near being the owner of a twin-six car today," said Gelatine Travers on his arrival home. "How near?" inquired Mrs. Travers without enthusiasm. "Well, my number was actually in the hat from which the winning number was drawn, and that's nearer than usual," replied her husband.

Paris Flat Hunters Are Butt of Jokes

PARIS, Dec. 10.—Flat hunters in Paris—they are legion these days—are often the victims of a house agent's "practical jokes. Those taken in recently are still talking about it and threatening the agent with summonses, while the latter is only just recovering from the laughing fit he had at the expense of some eighty people. The trouble arose over an advertisement published in three Paris newspapers reading: "For rent a three-room flat, with water and gas, 900 frances per year. Apply 57 Faubourg St. Honore."

From 7 o'clock on people were to be seen running down the Faubourg eagerly looking up at the number plates. When finally they reached No. 57 they found it to be the Elysee Palace, the residence of the presidents of the French republic. The guards on duty at the door wondered if some asylum had been let loose.

Government statstics show that 98 per cent of farm women do the family washing, and more than half of them are still using the washboard.

Can the Chicago department store that ordered all its female employes to let their hair grow be referred to as a "hair restorer?"

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Ways to Economize
Steam Shovel Talk
All About Automobiles
Results in Real Estate

By Gil A. Cowan

FOR the people coming from ten miles south of Springfield in the state of Illinois there is one distinction which is credited you. That is the center of the mining industry in the United States, according to the federal bureau of mines.

The center of coal mining is in the neighborhood of Chillicothe, Ohio, while metal mining has its center in Nebraska—a state that has practically no valuable mineral deposits. Quarrying has its center in the vicinity of Kokomo.

All of which gives residents of these particular sections something to talk about, but in these days of income taxes, etc., it seems a shame to have a group of government employes engaged in giving out such vital information. A 50 per cent reduction on reports, a limitation of conversation in congress, not to mention a million and one little things, would make for almost immediate economy in governmental expenses.

One Mr. E. Schelling of Los Angeles brought a steam shovel to Glendale several weeks ago for the excavation of the Christian church basement. Then he moved to the Ambrosini hotel site. Now the big machine is working on the property where the Pendroy department store will rise. Next week it is to be on the Jensen lot adjacent to the T. D. L. theatre.

"Where do we go from here, boys" is the popular diversion of the retired gentlemen who thoroughly enjoy watching the almost human scoop dig out truck load after truck load of dirt that has sold for as much as $450 a front foot.

The smoke and steam the machine casts over the skyline of the business section makes one think of the industrial centers back east where you have to change linen daily because of the soot flung over the city on winter mornings.

While worrying about winter, what cool nights and mornings California claims gives food for thought about a closed car. Coupes, sedans and limousines make riding a pleasure. The California tops which permit touring cars to serve as limousines also are worthy of consideration.

Glance through the pages of The Glendale Evening News today which are devoted to the automobile industry and decide which car should be yours. You must buy it in Glendale if you live here. Then learn about the accessories from these same columns each week.

Even the men who repair machines use the newspaper to tell you how well their work is done. Everything for the motorist is represented as the weeks roll by. It will pay you to get acquainted with the automobile advertisers.

Here's something for business men of this city and especially those who claim to be business men and do not advertise in The Glendale Evening News.

E. D. Hamlin of the firm of Hamlin & Hepburn, subdividers of the Fairview tract in northwest Glendale, owes this paper no favors other than the business it produces for him.

He came into the office this morning and stated that his advertising in this paper exclusively had sold twenty-four lots in two days, both as direct and indirect results of publicity given only in The Glendale Evening News.

Do you get the significance of that statement?

Approximately $15,000 in residence property was turned in forty-eight hours from the first announcement of a new subdivision as the result of $15 worth of advertising! Of course, Hamlin & Hepburn have a good proposition for the home-builder, but they are willing to admit they get results from The Glendale Evening News advertising.

RESORT FOR 'BAD' CARS

There's a mystery in garage circles here that is easily solved for those who are in the "know." When a motorist speaks of going to Henry's place, it isn't a moonshine resort in the mountains, but Henry Eyraud's garage at 926 South Brand boulevard.

OLD-TIMER MAKES GOOD

Ed Tolliver, for twenty years with the original Georgia Minstrels, made his debut in vaudeville here last night at the Glendale Theatre. While growing gray in the "profesh," he went over well.

THE OVERSIZE ELEMENT

Strength, in a storage battery, depends upon the positive plate area. The greater this area, the greater the power and "kick." And, as the area is increased, the strain on each unit is reduced. Westinghouse Batteries are built with two more plates per cell than ordinary types. In common sizes this increased plate area increases the battery's capacity 15—25%; gives it that much longer life. By that amount the strain on each individual plate is lessened.

The Westinghouse is an extra strong battery.

Call Business Meeting

An announcement was made of the coming business meeting of the members of the Ninth Congressional district, which is to be held on the night of Wednesday, December 14, at the headquarters of the Pasadena Post. All of the delegates from the various posts of the district who attended the 1921 state convention at Yosemite have been invited to take part in the caucus. Special reports will be made during the session by several delegates to the recent national convention at Kansas City and by members of the California state executive committee.

A communication was read from Los Angeles Post, No. 8, inviting local Legionnaires to attend the light opera, "Pinafore," which is to be staged by the members of that post during the week of December 19 at the Philharmonic auditorium, Los Angeles.

Oldest 'Girl' at 110 Has Her Hair Bobbed, Plays With Dollies

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 10.—The oldest inmate in the Daughters of Israel Home for the Aged, 110 years old, is about to have her hair bobbed "like the other girls," as she expressed it. The management of the home withheld her name, fearing lest its publication might offend wealthy relatives.

"I am only 110," she said, "and I expect to break the record of my grandmother, who lived to be 125."

She is known among the other inmates as "the telephone," because of her facility in gossip, and is also called the "head of the democratic party," because of her persistent discussion of politics. She ascribed her longevity to diet largely, eating little meat and very little bread.

Another inmate of the home is Mrs. Rivka Zippe, 105 years old. She primps constantly, and is said to be very jealous of the attentions paid by the old men in the institution to the other "girls." She says that the secret of her old age and beauty is fresh air, and she sits out in all weather. Her favorite diversion is playing with dolls.

A benefit entertainment is to be given for these two old ladies in which all of the forty or fifty inmates of the home are preparing to participate.

In the Mediterranean, no bird is better known than the quail. Twice a year he passes over the great inland sea. His coming is quite a festival, and many an outstanding bill and many a peasant's overdue rent is paid at his expense.

Peace of Pacific Is Still Burning Question

HONOLULU, T. H., Dec. 10.—The people of Australia are "waiting with eager interest" to ascertain how far America is going to "assist Great Britain in maintaining the peace of the Pacific," according to word brought here by Sir Arthur Rickard, prominent Australian business man and president of the Australian branch of the Pan-Pacific Union. He also expressed the opinion that "the future of the countries bordering the Pacific depends on nothing more than an unbreakable bond between the English-speaking people residing in those countries." The titled Australian was in Hawaii for a vacation and did not represent either the British or Australian governments in an official capacity.

GASOLINE GAUGE IN LATEST NASH SIX AID TO DRIVER

Evidence of Completeness in Which Auto Is Delivered to Satisfied People

No more will it be necessary to get out of your car and stand at attention while your gasoline tank is being filled. Neither will it be necessary to experience that anguish that comes sooner or later to the average motorist when a wheezing noise in the carbureter announced the exhaustion of the gas supply.

The latest model of the Nash six circumvents all of these worries, as well as a number of others, by having the gasoline gauge installed in the dashboard adjacent to the speedometer and all the other things which it is vital for the driver to keep under his constant scrutiny.

The Nash gas speedometer is similar in appearance in many respects to the little instrument that tolls off the miles. It is different in the main essential that the faster you go the lower it runs.

Evidence of Completeness

It registers down the smallest fraction of a gallon and is further different in that it is said to register accurately and not be subject to the same influences that causes the average gauge installed over a tank to frequently vary from the truth.

"This is but another evidence of completeness of the new Nash Six," said E. B. Sutton of the Glendale Nash Sales, Nash distributers. "Many a driver has been embarrassed because he took a chance and did not give his gauge the attention he should. There is no inconvenience in watching the supply of gas with this new device which the Nash has adopted after extensive tests over a long period of time as standard equipment for this latest model.

"There is an increasing demand for convenience in a car, and in this new model the Nash endeavors to fully meet this demand in every day."

Batteries Are Made to Be Used As Much As Possible, Claimed

"The man who is not used to handling batteries might say that the way to get the most out of a battery is to use it just as little as possible," remarked E. W. Cizek of the Cizek Auto Electric Service station, 300 South Brand boulevard, yesterday.

"As a matter of fact, that would be just the wrong way to go at it. Batteries are made to be used and they can be used regularly and put through some pretty stiff paces and yet last a long time if the man who uses them, only follows a few simple rules:

"Be sure your ignition switch is closed; pull out your choker; push out your clutch pedal so that your starting motor will have to turn only the engine. Then step on your starting button and your motor ought to take hold. If it does not, then the thing to do is to find out where the trouble is and remedy it before you make another trial."

Gas Is Produced From New Source in England

LONDON—Producing gas from a new source is being tried as an experiment on a small Surrey farm.

It is nothing less than the chaining of the will-o'-the-wisp, which is a form of marsh gas. It was discovered during the war that marsh gas could be produced in quantities sufficient to be of practical use whether for heat or power. Almost all manure, whether from the farmyard or from rotting vegetables and leaves, gives off at a certain stage large volumes of marsh gas.

A building has now been designed into which the manure is pitched at the right time, and the gas forming above it is taken off and measured. A double purpose is thus served. The manure is protected from the weather and does not lose its valuable qualities, and the gas from it may be used to run the machinery of the farm.

The gas from the new experiment is at present a little fickle. Sometimes the quantities are great, sometimes small; but the causes of the variation are being probed, and great results are expected.

With the gas the only apparatus needed is a pipe and an air-tight reservoir.

Suspend Co-eds for 'Bumming' Their Way

COLUMBUS, O.—"No woman student shall so conduct herself as to draw public attention and reflect upon the standards of our university."

This is the rule posted by officials of the Ohio State university.

It was announced after a number of co-eds, who bummed their way to another city to witness the Ohio State university eleven play another university football team, were suspended.

Other regulations announced provide that all women at Ohio State university must register with Dean of Women Conrad at least twenty-four hours before leaving Columbus to attend any out-of-town games; also, that any co-ed who plans to go to an out-of-town game by automobile must give Dean Conrad the names of all those who compose the party, and her chaperone must be approved by the dean.

Food Remittances May Save Russia, Dr. Kellogg Says

Dr. Vernon Kellogg, who accompanied the first American Relief Administration food train into the famine districts of Russia, has just returned to the United States to report to the Hoover organization on conditions in that country of starving millions. Fifteen million people, Dr. Kellogg says, are in imminent danger of death from hunger and another fifteen million are approaching the danger point of food shortage, unless America comes to their aid.

In order that relatives in this country as well as others may have opportunity to save these people from certain extinction, the American Relief Administration has opened a food remittance department at its offices, 42 Broadway, New York, where foodstuffs to the value of from $10 to $50 can be purchased in $10 amounts for delivery to any individual in Russia. Should the supplies be needed for an institution, $500 worth can be bought. Anyone wishing to make use of this system can, by applying to the Administration's New York office, receive a blank to be filled out according to directions and returned with a money order or check.

The remittances are then forwarded to Moscow for distribution to the various A. R. A. warehouses, at which the individual designated by the purchaser is notified to report for his supplies.

Big Ginseng Root From W. Virginia

MARLINGTON, W. Va.—E. M. Smith, a well-known hunter of this city, discovered the largest ginseng root ever found in this section of the state while hunting for pheasants on Red Lick Mountain the other day. Mr. Smith became entangled in some sort of plant and after investigating found it to be a giant ginseng stalk four feet high. He dug it up and sold the root to a local grocer. There were between seventy and eighty marks or scars on the curl of the root, each showing an annual growth, which indicates that the plant had been growing unmolested for well on toward one hundred years. A large quantity of ginseng is dug in this section of the state for shipment to China, where the natives have great faith in its medicinal qualities, and this makes this discovery by Mr. Smith the more unusual.

Big Coffee Crops for Planters of Hawaii

HONOLULU, T. H.—In the historic old Kona District, on the Island of Hawaii, scene of many an ancient battle and legendary exploit of god and demi-god, the prosaic coffee bean now holds sway.

Many acres of that picturesque country about the lower slopes of the two great volcanoes, Hualalai and Mauna Loa, are now planted to coffee, and the name Kona coffee carries with it remembrances of a mighty palatable beverage to those who have tried it.

The 1921 crop of Kona coffee will be a large one, growers state, but low prices may influence some growers to let the berries remain on the bushes, labor conditions being such that picking at present prices can only be done at a loss. No exact estimates of the 1921 crop have been made.

How Will They Learn Hula Hula Dancing?

HONOLULU, T. H. — "Hawaii's teachers, as members of a dignified and honorable profession and as representative American citizens, must wear modest and sensible clothing, for grace, beauty, poise and attractiveness are not expressed in extreme and sensational apparel."

This exhortation, forming a part of the rules and regulations of the territorial department of public instruction, has been sent by Superintendent Vaughan MacCaughey to each of the 1500 teachers now employed by the department and is stressed as one of the essential fundamentals to satisfactory fulfillment of a teacher's duties.

It may be added that Hawaii's teachers are almost all women.

Today would not be too soon to select some one of the twelve models which cover the entire field of passenger transportation.

Baby Is Admission to Unusual Church Rites

WORCESTER—A baby was the ticket admission here recently to an unusual service conducted by Jesuit priests at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament. The service was a protest against birth control.

"It will be the most powerful sermon that could be preached against race suicide when the mothers hold up their babes to be blessed by Almighty God," Father Charles McIntyre said in discussing the unusual service.

Arrangements were made to "park" the many baby carriages in the church yard.

Spain, the first of the nations to send in its challenge for the last Davis Cup tennis competition, had its defi in the hands of the American committee on January 6 of this year, so already the next Davis Cup competition is being discussed.

No secret is being made of the fact that the Japanese, in view of their brilliant showing last year in this blue ribbon event, will put forth a mighty effort in the hope of bettering their position of runner up for the coveted trophy. The success of the Japanese representatives in this country last season has had a wonderful effect on the game in the Flowery Kingdom, and there is a more or less concerted movement on to teach the youngsters the art of the game with an eye to the immediate future.

Whether or not the United States will be as strong as it was in the last Davis Cup series is a debatable question. There are possibilities that William Johnston may not be among the competitors. It is known among his friends that Johnston practically played himself to a standstill last season, and many followers of the game reluctantly admit that, perhaps, Johnston has passed the apex of his career and never again will be able to play up to the brilliant form which made him such a popular national champion.

Even William Tilden, the present world and national champion fell off in his play during the latter part of the season when he was playing in aid of the fund for devastated France, which was one of the purposes of the ill fated invasion of Miss Lengien. Of course, it is quite possible that Tilden also had had a surfeit of the game and that he will be up to form again after a winter off the courts.

Of the other ranking players of the United States there are none who are considered to approach the standard of the two men named when they are at the top of their form. In other words, granted that Tilden and Johnston are at their best there is a wide gap between the ability of these two men and the third ranking player. With Tilden and Johnston, let us say, out of the running, Japan would have cause for considerable hope of annexing the honors. If these two Americans were hors de combat, the followers of tennis in the United States would have cause for genuine alarm.

Twelve nations competing for world honors in tennis last year and it would surprise no one if there were more aspirants on the list next year by the time the entries are closed. All challenges have to be in during March, so that it will be only a matter of a few weeks' before the ball starts rolling for the 1922 Davis Cup series. As the present holders of the cup, the Americans will again play on their own soil, the preliminary matches being arranged to be played wherever it is most convenient for the representatives of the various competing nations to meet.

At the moment, it looks as though the future movements of the cup would be guided by what Tilden and Johnston contribute to the cause.

There is talk in the east of another Jack Dempsey vs. Bill Brennan contest. When they fought at Madison Square Garden just a year ago, Dempsey at that time promised to give Brennan another chance if he wanted it. Now they are starting to talk up this fight.

One thing is certain, if the contest is arranged Dempsey and Jack Kearns will have more to say on the referee question than was the case a year ago. At that time Kearns was practically ignored and he practically did not know who would referee until a few hours before the men went into the ring. Brennan stayed twelve rounds with the champion at that time, much to the surprise of everyone, Dempsey and Kearns being the most surprised. True the referee did not give a decision, but the next time the two fight Kearns wants to know something as to who will referee and he wants his own side of the question considered in the matter.

The Amateur Athletic Union has revised its weight standards for the medal boxers. The new amateur weight limits are as follows: flyweight, 112; bantamweight, 118; featherweight, 126; lightweight, 135; welterweight, 147; middleweight, 160; light heavyweight, 175; heavyweight over 175.

Incidentally the amateur powers that be which control amateur boxing throughout the country has also decided on a point system of scoring in bouts and the two judges of each bout award the boy who in their opinion had the better of a round five points and a lesser number to his opponent. The referee also shall score on the same system and at the conclusion of a contest the figures of the three officials are to be totalled and the winner decided on the highest points.

With the retirement of Alfred Hill; the famous mile runner of England, it now appears that Paovo Nurmi of Finland looks to be the best miler among the European nations. Strange to say Nurmi made his name by winning the Olympic games ten thousand meter race, but since then he has turned his attention to running the mile and 1500 meters and was recently clocked in the mile in about 4 minutes 13 seconds.

Various university teams of the country have sent their baseball teams to Japan, where they found the little brown men particularly proficient in America's national pastime. Now the Orientals believe they have progressed to the stage of perfection in track and field where they can compete successfully with a strong American college team. The Tokio University of Japan acting for a combination of Japanese colleges has issued an invitation to Alonzo Stagg to bring his University of Chicago track team to Japan in the 1922 track season. The invitation is being considered seriously by the Chicago team.

RESERVE CLAUSE IN PLAYER CONTRACT HAS AMENDMENT

Minor League Magnates Take Teeth Out of Agreement; L. A. Gets Players

By JACK VEIOCK
Written for International News Service

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 10.—Minor league magnates took the teeth out of the reserve clause in player contracts here. The National association adopted a resolution which will permit players listed as "reserve clause jumpers" to be reinstated on paying a fine of $200. This will affect some 100 players listed in the twenty-six minor leagues that operated last year.

The ruling does not apply to players who jumped contracts and will permit many renewals of contracts between clubs and players who are now on "the outs."

Under the new order any player so reinstated must return to the club he deserted at the same salary provided in his former contract, but by mutual agreement the player and clubowner may open negotiations for a new contract calling for more salary.

Here Is New Board

Another move made by the minors was to reduce the national board of arbitration from ten to seven members. The new board will consist of William H. McCarthy, Pacific Coast league; J. D. Martin, Southern association; Dan O'Neill, Eastern league; John C. Toole, International league; N. P. Cornish, South Atlantic league; W. G. Brainham, Piedmont league, and J. D. Jamieson, Blue Ridge league.

A committee consisting of John H. Farrell, secretary of the National association; Toole, McCarthy and Thos. J. Hickey of the American association was appointed to meet with representatives of major leagues in New York next week to confer regarding questions of mutual interest.

The 1922 meeting of the association will be held in Louisville.

Secretary John H. Farrell, who has served the association for twenty-one years, was ordered to take a thirty-day vacation and the order got a big hand from the convention.

These Players Sold

Manager Killifer of the Los Angeles club sold the following players, he announced today: Player Andrews to Beaumont; Player Anheiser to Oklahoma City; Pitcher Brown to Kansas City, and Catcher Stanage to Sacramento.

Jack Holland of Oklahoma City made offers to both Del Gainor and Donie Bush to manage his club next season. Holland also purchased Outfielder Middleton from Seattle.

Predictions of a prosperous season in 1922 and a spirit of optimism, despite the high price of playing material and its scarcity were made freely by baseball men here as the annual convention of the National association came to a close.

Many of the magnates, with deals still hanging fire, headed toward New York, where the major leagues will hold their annual sessions next week and in their wake were rumors galore.

Just what will eventually become of the draft problem as it stands today between the majors and class AA leagues is a question.

The committee appointed by the Minor leagues to meet with the Majors in New York, may take up the question and it has been said by some who claim to be well informed that the class AA leagues are willing to return to the old system of drafting, provided certain conditions are carried out. What the AA magnates want is a fixed price of $7,500 for players drafted from them. Some of the big leaguers think this figure is all out of proportion, but in the face of "hundred thousand dollar" player deals most anything is reasonable, according to the "double A" clubowners.

Resignation Denied

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—William L. Veeck, president of the Chicago Cubs, returned today from the annual minor league meeting at Buffalo and immediately denied that he or Manager Bill Killifer contemplated resigning. He said:

"Killifer is slated as our manager for 1922 and we hope he will be the manager for the next ten years. As for either of us resigning because the Cubs did not get Heinie Groh, we would not have had to resign if we had paid $150,000 for Groh—we would have been fired."

Veeck also denied a report from the coast that Frank Chance was to return as manager of the Cubs.

Criticizes Judge Landis

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Acceptance by Federal Judge Landis of Chicago of the position of high commissioner of baseball was criticized in the House by Representative Moore, Democrat, of Virginia. Moore introduced an amendment to the bill to provide additional Federal Judges to prevent such jurists from accepting public or private employment for pay outside their judicial offices.

"Public sentiment in this country is opposed to Judge Landis' employment as baseball arbitrator," Moore declared.

For Los Angeles Team

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10. — Two deals which are expected to add considerable strength to the southern California teams in the Pacific Coast league have been announced. The Los Angeles club has purchased Max Wheat of the Philadelphia National club. The Vernon club has traded Pitcher Bob McGraw to the Minneapolis club of the American association for Bill James, also a pitcher.

WAYS TO INCREASE AUTO TRADE TOLD AT CONVENTION

Talk of Interest Given at Association Meeting Held to Discuss Problems

More than 300 delegates attended the general meeting of the California Automobile Trade association held in Bakersfield, December 5 and 6. They came from all parts of the state, and discussed automobile problems.

Ray W. Sherman, merchandising director of the National Automotive Equipment association, who is touring the country, showing men in the trade how to increase their business, was the principal speaker of the second day's meeting. He had with him a two-reel moving picture showing how one garage man increased his profits by "asking 'em to buy."

Sherman repeated this message to San Francisco dealers and jobbers the following day, and then went to Sacramento and on north to Portland and Seattle.

Discuss Vital Topics

Expert speakers were on hand at the convention to tell the delegates things pertaining vitally to their business. A banker was there to tell them what the relation between the bank and the business is and how dealers should use their resources and secure credit.

The meeting was called to order by George Haberfelde, president of the association and Robert W. Martland, secretary-manager, read his reports and addressed the meeting.

The first day was given over to craft meetings, and an expert addressed each branch of the automobile men gathered there. Then the next day was given over to the general meeting and the address of Sherman and the moving pictures.

It was voted one of the most successful meetings ever held by the association. The next meeting will be held in San Jose in February.

Bargains in Fords Now Being Offered By Glendale Agency

"We have some wonderful bargains in used cars," stated Edward S. Lawrence, assistant manager of the Ford agency, yesterday afternoon. We don't take anything else in except Fords. If a prospective buyer has another make of car and wishes to buy a Ford, it is up to him to dispose of it or else sometimes our salesman himself will sell it. We confine our selling strictly to Fords; that is all we do. We are always having a used car sale—for Fords."

PUNCHED PUNCH — FINED

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Because he "lost his head" and punched Punch, Julian Laughlin, attorney, has paid a fine of $25. Lawyer Montague Punch, punchee, declared in court that "certain statements of the opposing counsel are false and untrue." Whereupon Laughlin pulled "a Fred Merkle," as he admits, and tried to "knock Punch for a goal."

Oakland Agency In Enlarged Quarters; Business Excellent

The Oakland agency of Green & McClellan is now housed in its enlarged quarters at 115 West Harvard street owned by Max Green.

A large brick addition has just been completed to the original establishment which had become cramped with the increase of business with the growth in popularity of the Oakland.

The display room has been doubled in size and now contains room for a number of show cars. The stock room has been enlarged five times and the service station and garage have been greatly enlarged. On account of three sky lights and wide doors on either side, Mr. Green is convinced that this is the best-lighted automobile shop in Glendale.

DENIES HE ISSUED ORDER

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Dec. 10.—Maj. Gen. Joseph T. Dickman, retired commander of the first army corps, expeditionary forces in France, denied he had ever issued an order that members of his command be publicly horsewhipped if they were found with stolen property in their possession.

General Dickman said that such an order was in violation of article 41 of the articles of war and that while Colonel Malin Craig, his chief of staff at the time, might have issued it, he doubted its authenticity. General Dickman referred to an army horsewhipping order brought out in Senator "Tom" Watson's probe of army cruelties in Washington.

The burning was the largest since $11,000,000 worth of opium was destroyed in Canton by Commissioner Lin.

If you were, would it be Retailing? No matter whether you have already answered that question or not; no matter even if you have never considered making such a move—the data given below may prove interesting to you.

The F. A. Clarke Company is a retail concern dealing exclusively in Electrical Household Appliances. Starting in 1917 with one store in Los Angeles, the company has already established an enviable record for consistent, yet remarkably rapid growth—now having stores in six other Southern California towns—another Los Angeles store at Seventh and Broadway, the busiest corner in America—and has, under construction, a Central Headquarters Building which will house another store—an Electrical Service Station—the Company Garage—and the Offices of the Company, and which will be the first building in the United States erected to serve Electrical Household Appliance Customers exclusively. It should be of interest to those considering the profitableness of such a business that this amazing growth has been made solely upon the earnings of the Company!

NO! The F. A. Clarke Company has no desire to "sell out"—but it IS offering an opportunity for a very limited number of people to SHARE in the profits of the Company—at very little cost to themselves!

The Opportunity

A great portion of the F. A. Clarke Company sales are made on the Partial Payment plan. At the present time the financing of these deferred payments is being handled through an Eastern Financing Corporation at considerable expense to the F. A. Clarke Company. The Company now proposes to finance its own deferred payments, and, to make this possible, is offering $110,000 worth of 8% preferred stock. This stock is being offered at $95.00 per share—par value $100.00. With each share of preferred stock one-half share of common stock will be given. Purchased at $95.00 per share, this preferred stock will yield nearly 8½%!

BUILDING and MORTGAGE LOANS

vs.

OTHER INVESTMENTS

It has recently been established by carefully compiled statistics gathered from all sections of the country, that mortgage loans and real estate are the most stable, conservative and best income-paying investments to be found.

The committee appointed to investigate building loans and housing conditions advised with 1500 bond and mortgage companies, and they established by detailed figures that real estate mortgage loans yield about 20% higher income returns than investments in bonds and other stable securities. The fact that 49% of the entire assets of savings banks are so invested proves conclusively the soundness of this, the best of investments.

It is interesting to note another report which states that real estate loans are the best investments to be found, pays highest interest rates, with absolute security for the principal, and that this fact is attracting money from other forms of investments into the first mortgage.

Building Loans and Trust Deeds, while the latter has always been considered the hardest to place, Trust Deeds pay a higher rate of interest, and, as they usually recite monthly payments and to include interest, the principal gradually is being reduced while the security becomes more valuable; and this not only because of the fact that the size of the loan is being reduced but because of improvements the home owner will make on the home and grounds, and the continuous increase in the value of the land as new improvements go up.

The wonder is that money for first mortgages, trust deeds and building loans is not a drug on the market—the only plausible reason is the desire in the minds of so many for speculative investments — those that are tinged with prospective enormous returns — self-styled "Get Rich Quick" on small investments. There is no such thing for the man or woman of average means; speculative investments are only for those who can afford to take a chance, that in case the principal is lost it will not deprive them of any of the necessities of life. Why take a chance when such wonderful opportunities are available in real estate and building investments, which have the endorsement of your business firms, bankers, etc.?

When you consider the United States is in dire need of homes, more than we can possibly build during the next ten years, this, coupled with the growing desire for home-ownership and ready market at attractive interest rates for money with which to build homes, you are assured of perpetual returns with principal carefully safeguarded, and the best investment you can find and make.

THE TREASURE CHEST

Where joy and contentment abound,
Where life's cherished treasures await you,
Where unalloyed pleasure is found.
You may seek a dwelling in apartment or flat,
Yet never know the true meaning of home,
For the only key to this treasure chest,
Fits the door to the house you own.

HARD WORK SECRET OF COMEBACK BY BELGIAN FOLK

Little Nation Forgets About War and Sets Itself to Peace and Social Acts

By HUGH REDWOOD
(Written for International News Service and London Daily News.)

LONDON—The harbor station at Ostend is still a place of desolation. I found it so on a recent visit. There is plenty of splintered glass in its gaunt arcades, and the autumn wind blows coldly over its unprotected platforms. But as soon as the long train, with its great German engine and its big, easy coaches pulls out over the new and well-laid track you feel in your bones—assuming that you are wise enough to leave Ypres out of your intinerary—that you have come to a Land of Good Hope.

The carillon of Bruges echoes across a plain that was assuredly never more fertile and never better tilled. From the canal bank beside the works of La Brugoise, which the Germans stripped bare of their machinery, I listened to the bells playing German music one Sunday morning; and later, as I traversed the whole breadth of Belgium and sought, generally in vain, for traces of the war it seemed to me that the carilloneur must be something of a symbolist.

For Belgium is steadily setting herself to forget the war. Her ideals of today are peace with her neighbors and with all men, and social reform within her own gates. To attain these ends she must trade, to trade she must work, and she is working as, I verily believe, no other country is working.

Forces of the Future

In Ghent and in Brussels they impressed upon me that co-operation and communal effort are to be the forces of the future. Bolshevism in Belgium was stillborn. Labor is sane and soundly disciplined.

I talked with the editor of the official labor newspaper in a room that itself told me almost as much as he did. There was a portrait in a place of honor on the wall. Not of Lenin, not of Karl Marx, not even of Emile Vandervelde, the Belgian apostle of co-operation, but of William Morris, whose dream was of a world made beautiful by and for the workers.

On the way from Brussels to Liege the express steamed into a lofty station, bright with the morning sunshine streaming through a clean glass roof on to paint still cleaner, thronged with busy people, humming with the throttled energy of half a dozen trains at its dozen platforms. Outside there was a pulse in the air as of a mighty loom, and through the mist one caught fleeting glimpses of vast modern factories in process of erection. Everything was eloquent of life and labor. From the railway, at any rate, not one single thing was visible to recall the years of war and ruin.

Stay! There was just one. It was the name board in the station, which had been left unpainted, apparently of set purpose. On the faded and scaling wood one might faintly discern, in German characters, the word Lowen. For this was Louvain.

The Motto of Liege

At Liege, for a matter of 2½d. in English money, one may spend an hour or so upon the broad bosom of the Meuse. The Liegois have no eyes, it would seem, for all that one sees, no ears for all that one hears, on the steamer trip to Seraing; yet in the ceaseless ring of hammers upon new steel, in the endless extensions of iron works, motor works, glass works and the like there is a lesson for the whole of Europe.

"Long live ourselves!" is the slogan of Liege. The hotel keepers act up to it in one way; the workers in another and better.

One disembarks at the Passerelle, and is faced almost immediately with an inscription on a wall tablet:

"In this square, on the night of August 20, 1914, the Germans, without provocation, burnt twenty houses and shot eighteen people."

Nobody that I saw lifted an eye to it. The crowds hurry by, intent upon the astonishingly cheap stalls along the quays.

At half-past eight in the morning I found myself purchasing a trinket at a jeweller's shop in the Place de Meir—the Regent street of Antwerp. There had been several other customers before me. "You open early," I said to the proprietor.

"Monsieur," he replied with surprising earnestness, "it is my way of protecting against the tendencies of the times. I open at 8 a. m.—sometimes earlier—and I close at 10 p. m.—sometimes later. And no weekends (this, very pointedly, in English). But what would you have? To work, and to work hard is our only hope. I was a working jeweler, now I have my own shop and am my own shop assistant. I work as long as I please.

"The eight hours day? The six hours day? In another ten years' time, when we have earned our leisure. Till then, ne m'en parlez pas!"

Gardner Meets His Wife After Capture

Marshal Joe Dilliam, Mrs. Dolly Gardner and Roy Gardner, train bandit. Mrs. Gardner hurried from San Francisco when she heard her husband was back in prison at Phoenix, Arizona.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 10.—Indications were that the jury in the trial of Roy Gardner, famous bandit, charged with stealing three mail sacks at Maricopa, Arizona, November 3, may get the case late today. The defense produced expert testimony as to Gardner's sanity. Three witnesses who are connected with the Arizona hospital for the insane testified they believed he was impelled at times with an uncontrollable form of insanity. X-ray photographs were introduced purporting to show that there was a pressure on Gardner's brain from a blow received at Bisbee, Arizona, in 1909.

"Chasing Sally," Is Real Comedy; Coming Here Monday Night

The many friends and admirers of W. B. Patton will be interested to learn that the "peculiar comedian" will visit Glendale next Monday night in The Empire State Producing Co.'s Rainbow comedy "Chasing Sally" at the T. D. & L. theatre, which is conceded by those who have seen it, as quite the smartest and most pretentious production he has ever appeared in. It is a play of joyous excitement and bristles throughout with strange situations and very, very funny lines. When you watch him in this character, if you care to trace it backwards from your symptomatic side ache, you will find that the laugh that you laugh is at the laugh that Mr. Patton laughs at your laughter.

The Empire State Producing company has taken great care in selecting the cast, which includes Miss Phyllis Mackay, his former leading woman, and several of the old members of Mr. Patton's company, who have been with him for many years and will again be seen to advantage in the new comedy.

AUTHORITY CLAIMS AMERICA LACKING IN NAVAL BASES

Senator Miles Poindexter of Navy Committee Warns of Japan's Preparedness

By J. BART CAMPBELL
Written for International News Service
Copyright, 1921, International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—It would be sheer folly for the American government to consider any proposal by Japan that her acceptance of the 5-5-3 naval ratio be contingent upon the maintenance of a status quo in Pacific fortifications, Senator Miles Poindexter, Republican, of Washington, ranking member of the Senate Naval Affairs committee and a widely-recognized authority on naval affairs declared.

Mere agreements, as was found in the case of Belgium, are poor securities of naval defense, was the warning voiced by Senator Poindexter as he pointed out that Japan already possesses three great complete naval bases on the Pacific, while the United States has not one completed there.

"We have not even on the Atlantic coast a complete naval base equal to one or more possessed by Japan," he said.

Japan Well Protected

"In view of our very important possessions in the Pacific, reaching close to the shores of Asia, it is necessary for us to maintain our sea power there, unless we are determined to submit our destinies to the mercy of rival powers.

"This is true whether there is a reduction or a limitation of armaments or not, since the same factors would enter into the relative situation we would be confronted with.

"It must not be forgotten that Japan has three great complete naval bases in the Pacific, at Kure, Yokesuko and Sasebo," Senator Poindexter said. "In addition, she has five minor bases suitable for limited accommodations and repairs for her naval vessels.

"On the other hand, the United States has no complete naval base either upon the mainland or in the islands of the Pacific. At Mare Island, Puget Sound and Pearl Harbor we have navy yards, but between them there is only one drydock adequate for fully-armed and equipped battleships of the largest type.

"Suffice it to say, that the facilities in the Japanese yards are many times superior to those of the United States in the Pacific.

Should Be No Trouble

"There should be no trouble between the United States and Japan, because there is ample room for expansion and development of both within their respective fields and without conflict—but the way to avoid such a conflict is for the United States to be prepared to defend and maintain such policies as in her best wisdom she may determine upon in the interest of peace and justice in that quarter of the globe which Japan seems to regard as her own.

"Adequate shore stations are equally important as war vessels because the latter cannot be maintained without them. The maintenance of sea power, whether absolute or relative, with or without a reduction or a limitation of armament, depends equally as much upon the development of naval bases as upon ships and their fighting auxiliaries.

Defense Further Westward

"In order to maintain our relative status, it is necessary to carry our defenses further westward (and to have at Guam a port of refuge and protection, with land defenses, for our fleet. This can be brought about at a very little expense and in a comparatively short time. It is not necessary to specify details, but to neglect to provide this defense will subject the government to the just charge of lack of care and prudence in the protection of the mighty destinies committed to its charge.

"Our frontiers are wherever our possessions are and in any questions of dismantling naval defenses, it is necessary that there should be a corresponding action by other powers, as in the limitation of tonnage."

MODERN WOODMEN ELECT FOSTER FOR CONSUL

Boosters' Association Will Be in Charge of Installing Local Camp Officers

At a regular meeting of Glendale camp, No. 12886, Modern Woodmen of America, held last night, the following officers were elected for the ensung year:

Consul, Albert Foster; advisor, Carroll L. Hare; banker, C. A. Bunting; clerk, Henry Molz; escort, Paul G. Wells; watchman, Clarence Blanchard; sentry, J. R. Tyrrell; trustee, J. E. Homes, physicians, Drs. H. C. Smith and A. W. Teel.

The installation of the new officers will take place at the first meeting of the camp in January. The present consul, O. M. Clinton, automatically occupies the past consul's chair next year, and of the present trustees, George T. Paine and David C. Carney retain their office for another year. The camp musician, James Burt Coughran likewise retains his office, while the appointment of a chief forester becomes one of the first official duties of the new consul.

Plan Big Installation

The installation ceremonies will be in the hands of the Modern Woodmen Boosters' association of Southern California, of which association Glendale camp is a member; the degree team of Pasadena camp No. 7272 will confer the full dramatic form initiary degree upon a number of candidates for membership, and many neighbors from out of town camps have signified their intention of being present. Following the meeting refreshments will be served.

Organized but last June, Glendale camp already has become a factor in Glendale's fraternal life. While primarily an insurance order, many among its rank carry no insurance having joined to derive the fraternal benefits.

YOUTHFUL BANDIT SUSPECT

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 10.—After an exciting chase, which was brought to an end only when pursuing policemen had shot one of the two alleged thugs in a stolen automobile, Chas. Myers, a mechanic of Birmingham, Ala., and Elmer Winters, of Chicago, are in the city jail today charged with severely beating A. P. McKenzie, driver of a "for hire" car. They are also wanted in Portland for alleged attack upon a taxi driver in that city.

Both gave their ages as 19. They are suspected of being the youthful bandits who have been operating in various coast cities. A woman giving the name of Irene Burke was also arrested in connection with the holdups. According to an alleged confession, the youths met in Los Angeles and decided to embark upon a career of crime.

DISCUSS SUGAR SITUATION

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 10.—The meeting of President Harding's cabinet Friday was devoted to a discussion of problems dealing with the sugar situation in the United States. The situation, it was stated at the White House, is extremely serious, due to the fact that more than 1,500,000 tons of surplus sugar is now in storage at ports both on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

The cabinet entertained several plans for the adjustment of this situation but reached no conclusions. Some members of the cabinet are understood to have questioned the advisability of adopting any artificial method for the disposition of the large supply of sugar, but it was stated that the administration will not hesitate to take any steps deemed necessary to help the situation if a "proper remedy" is brought forward.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 10.—Fifteen hundred employes of small packing houses struck here in protest against wage reductions and refusal of employers to sign agreements continuing the present working rules.

AUTO STAGES ARE WARNED

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10.—The railroad commission has issued to transportation companies a general order requiring all automobile passenger stages to come to a full stop before crossing the tracks of any steam or electric interurban railroad. The rule provides that the stop must be made not less than fifty nor more than seventy-five feet from the nearest rail of the railroad over which the highway crosses. After coming to a full stop the driver of the stage is required under the terms of the order to look carefully in each direction for approaching cars or trains and not to start his stage until he has ascertained that there are no cars or trains approaching the crossing in either direction.

The order does not apply to the operation of passenger stages in crossing the tracks of street railroads within municipalities. As the commission has no jurisdiction over the operation of school busses, taxis and rent cars, they are not included in the order.

DIPLOMAS TO BE CHOSEN

STUDEBAKER COUPE HAS SUPPORT OF 'REGULAR GUYS'

Noted Sporting Men Declare Closed Car Very Popular; Tell of Experiences

The fact that Jim Jeffries, Snowy Baker and Grover Cleveland Alexander drive Studebaker coupes rather makes a myth of the idea that a woman, an invalid or an octogenarian are the only ones who would desire a closed type automobile.

These men are too well known as virile, red-blooded, two-fisted men to put them in the class of those who need every protection against bad weather, chilly night brezes or a few drops of rain.

Jim Jeffries bought a Studebaker special six coupe a few months ago because the added comfort of an enclosed compartment was desirable and appreciated. Jim has had lots of open type cars and expresses regret that he did not adopt a closed car sooner but if one suggested to Jim that he was delicate they would start something.

Snowy Baker, known all over the world as an athlete and a contender to be feared in many lines of sport, has had at different times most of the finer foreign cars and now drives a duplicate of Jeffries' Studebaker Snowy is also strong for the Studebaker coupe and declares that it has the smoothest operation and greatest comfort that any car has ever given him, bar none.

No Sign of Weakness

Grover Cleveland Alexander showed no signs of weakness or old age when he played with the Chicago Cubs last season, but when he started for southern California a few weeks ago he picked out a Studebaker coupe just like Jim's and Snowy's to make the home run in. Grover has his wife, a brother and a woman friend of Mrs. Alexander along which filled all four seats of the coupe. They traveled through snow, but left their wraps in the luggage compartment in the rear as the closed windows and the floor heater afforded them all the comfort that they would have had if they had traveled in the cars operated by the well-known Pullman family.

What It Was Like

The only excitement that the Alexander party had on the trip was when Grover made a drive at a long snow-covered hill in Kansas and just at the top the road broke with a sharp curve that sent the coupe sliding and whirling in the snow. A deep canyon was missed by a small margin, but outside of that one thrill it was like running the bases after the ball had been knocked over the fence.

The report of the trip of the Alexander party as it was given to S. C. Packer, San Fernando Valley distributer of Studebakers, was much like other reports that have come in from day to day of trans-continental trips of Studebaker owners which summed up would read like this:

"We bought a Studebaker back home and decided to drive to California. We filled up the tanks with gasoline, oil and water, had a puncture or two and here we are."

These little girls, each dressed to represent a state or country, recently planted a rose tree each along the six mile "roseway" which will connect Portland, Oregon, with the famous Columbia River Scenic Highway and make the entrance to the scenic road a solid bank of flowers. Police Help Man Who Smashed Wooden Leg

COLUMBUS — Sympathy was shown by bluecoats at police headquarters when Clarence King, 21, was carried in.

In an unsuccessful search for work the young fellow fell, breaking his wooden leg. Then he appealed to a patrolman for a night's lodging.

Clarence not only does not remember having seen his father or mother —or any other relatives—but does not know when he lost his leg, except that the accident occurred when he was a small boy.

The officers aided him in repairing the wooden leg.

Attempts to Convict Assassins Continue

MEXICO CITY, Mex.—Efforts to bring to punishment those who assassinated President Francisco I. Madero and Vice-President Jose Maria Pino Saurez, in 1913, and President Venustiano Carranaza, in 1920, are being continued in a rather desultory way. It is not believed that any of the men accused will suffer execution, even though convicted. The prevailing opinion is that prosecution will stop when clamor for vengeance ends.

At present there is a resolute group which is determined to press the proceedings against the accused men. Some suspected men have fled from Mexico. Some have committed suicide, or have been shot when trying to escape

IMPORT FILIPINO LABOR

HONOLULU—One thousand Filipino laborers arrived here from Manila for work in the cane fields, where a serious shortage of labor now exists. The laborers are being brought to Hawaii by the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association as a relief measure. Their transportation to Hawaii will be paid by the association and their return to the Philippines at the end of three years is guaranteed, if desired.

Big Bequest Goes to Salvation Army Work

PHILIPPI, W. Va.—By the will of Henry A. Monanon, vice-president of the Citizens' National Bank of Gelington, who died recently at his home in that city, the Salvation Army in West Virginia is to get from $75,000 to $100,000. The will has been filed for probate at the court house here. Several other benevolent and charitable institutions will receive $1,000 each. Relatives were generously provided for. Mr. Monanon was one of the wealthiest citizens of Barbour county.

The official name of the order will be the American Legion Fathers' Association. The purpose of the fathers as announced in the preamble of the constitution is to give assistance in every way possible to the American Legion in its activities toward the development of real Americanism.

NOTES OF INTEREST FROM AUTO CLUB TO CAR OWNERS

Beware of Speed Cop When in Tulare County; Many New Signals of Warning

Southern California's touring season for the winter months is at its height, according to a report just issued by the Automobile Club of Southern California, and there are many notices of vital importance to all auto owners to be considered.

Any motorist from this section who is contemplating a tour through Tulare county, for instance, must beware of the speed cops there from now on. If you speed more than forty-five miles per hour in the vicinity of Tulare you will be put in jail. This warning is issued to all who may read.

Motorists intending to visit Little Bear valley in the near future will find the store there closed, so parties having children in them should remember this and not have the youngsters go foodless over night by arriving at Little Bear expecting to purchase "grub."

Signals at Night

Flash-light signals, warning autoists of danger at night by flashing a red light are to be erected throughout this and other southern counties by the auto club, according to an announcement just made. These signals are to be erected in connection with the club's signing system at the most important points of danger.

Auto thieves are becoming more daring this winter than ever before in the history of the west, and motorists are advised by the theft bureau officials to take extra precautions this month in locking cars if they are only vacated for two minutes. Take no chances with the auto thieves!

New state licenses can be secured through the Auto club two weeks earlier than you will be able to get them from the Motor Vehicle department, as a matter of convenience to thousands of club members in this section. Make your applications early is the advice just sent out.

NEW YORKERS LAZIEST

NEW YORK—"I'll tell the world that New Yorkers are the laziest bunch in the world," the man at the parcel post window of the City Hall post office confided to a friend the other day.

"How come?" queried a friend.

"Why, doggone it, a man comes downtown wearing rubbers. It clears up and he takes them off. And then he's too all-fired lazy to carry 'em home in the subway, a trip of maybe an hour. So he has the office boy wrap 'em up and mail 'em to his home. Can you beat it?"

Beginning Dec. 1, 1921, the management of our Glendale office was assumed by Mr. W. P. McMullin and Mr. W. F. Macpherson, who will operate as partners in the conduct of the office. Mr. MacMullin is already well and most favorably known to our Glendale clientele and Mr. Macpherson has been occupying a position of much responsibility in our Los Angeles office for many years. Both gentlemen are long-time Glendale residents, and property owners.

With Messrs. Macpherson and MacMullin will be associated Mr. W. H. Stadt, formerly of the Wilshire office, and Mr. John S. Wilson.

The well deserved promotion of the above gentlemen, gives us the opportunity of enlarging the scope of our Glendale office to include building construction, and to further augment our general Real Estate brokerage business.

POWERS AGREE UPON PACIFIC POLICIES, ANNOUNCED

Main Objects of Conference at Washington Now Reached, Seems Certain

BULLETIN!

LONDON, Dec. 10.—That Japan has definitely agreed to the 5-5-3 naval ratio was confirmed at the British foreign office today.

Japan, America and Britain have agreed to non-fortification of islands in the Pacific.

It is accepted here as a foregone conclusion that an agreement between Britain, America, Japan and France, will supplant the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Far reaching developments in the Washington conference which will settle the policies of the Pacific for years to come, hung suspended on the American end of the trans-ocean cable, awaiting the word from Tokio that will permit their publication.

No authoritative hint comes from American quarters concerning these developments. America's spokesmen continued to maintain the same impenetrable silence they have observed for two weeks, but in British, French and Japanese official sources, no effort is made to conceal the belief that the main work of the conference has been accomplished.

According to British, French and Japanese spokesmen, here is what can be expected within the next few days, perhaps early in the new week:

Announcement of the final acceptance by Japan of the 5-5-3 naval ratio.

Announcement of the formation of a new world agreement in the Pacific, under which Great Britain, Japan, France and the United States agree to respect each other's territorial possessions.

Declaration of a set of principles governing the fortifications of the Pacific, the effect of which will be to preserve the status quo of Japan and the United States in these waters.

The full extent of the reported agreement on Pacific fortifications has not been made clear, but it is reliably reported that the undertaking involves a mutual agreement by the United States and Japan not to add to their Pacific fortifications, except on the mainlands of the two countries. This would make the agreement apply specifically to Guam, the Philippines and American Samoa, on the part of the United States, and on Japan's part to the numerous islands which have come under Japanese control.

Much progress in clearing up disputed points is understood to have been made at the secret meeting between Secretary of State Hughes, A. J. Balfour, Baron Kato and M. Viviani. There was a lengthy session of the "big three" and later the French spokesman was called in.

Await Complete Reply

According to British and Japanese officials, the matter which is holding the work now is Tokio's delay in giving the final o. k. to the 5-5-3 naval ratio. What was officially described by the Japanese as a "partial" reply already has been received, but the Tokio delegates asserted that some important part of the message is missing and until it is received the final words cannot be spoken. The remainder of the Tokio reply is momentarily expected.

The progress which is reported in respect to the main work of the conference led to renewed hope on the part of the visiting delegations that they will be out of the Washington trenches by Christmas. It is not anticipated that all of the work of the conference will have been completed by that date but the visitors believe that sufficient work will have been accomplished to allow the principal figures to depart, leaving to minor officials, perhaps to a council of Washington Ambassadors, the completion of minor agreements.

Silversword, Rare Plant, in Hawaii, Is Threatened

HONOLULU—Compiete extermination of the silversword, one of the rarest plants in existence, is threatened through depredations of tourists and "souvenir hunters," who uproot and carry specimens away.

The silversword plant, which is found in quantities only in the great crater of Haleakala, on the island of Maui, consists of a clump of pointed sword-shaped leaves of the color and luster of dull or frosted silver, from which at certain seasons of the year a flowering stalk grows, attaining a height of from two to three feet and bearing flowers of a deep red shade. The plants grow on the sides of old volcanic cones, in soil consisting only of volcanic cinders and is not found at lower altitudes than 7000 feet, the mean elevation of the floor of Haleakala crater. The plant is also found occasionally in the Himalayas and on the side of Maura Kea, on the Island of Hawaii.

Steps are now being taken by the national park service to put a stop to the removal of the silversword from Haleakala, the crater being now a part of Hawaii national park and in this way it is hoped to save the plant from extermination.

Hunts Mother After 25 Year Separation

ATLANTA, Ga.—The old paper-backed novel has passed. But some of those plots which called down condemnation from the pulpit have a counterpart in fact. Chief of Police Beavers received a letter from Mrs. Ethel Burham of Cheyenne, Wyo., in which was told the story of a father's desertion of a wife and one child and the abduction of another. Mrs. Burham is the stolen child, and the letter states that not until her father's death-bed confession as to the whereabouts of her mother did she know her mother might be living. Her father's name was Miles Carlisle, of Atlanta, and twenty-five years ago he left here. Her mother's maiden name was Mollie Martin. The police chief has requested anyone to communicate with him at once.

BLIND PUBLISHER KILLED

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Sir Arthur Pearson, who in his prime was as great a power in British journalism as Lord Northcliffe, is dead. While taking his customary daily cold plunge in his bath tub, he slipped, fell, struck his head, was made unconscious and drowned. Sir Arthur was stricken with blindness in 1914. He founded Pearson's Weekly and the London Daily Express. He later purchased the Evening Standard, now owned by the Hulton group. He was 55 years of age.

ORDER YOUR BUICK NOW, IF DESIRED FOR CHRISTMAS

That's Suggestion Given by Ray Galvin, Who Declares Few Cars for Delivery

If you want a Buick for Christmas, you had better place your order immediately, if not sooner, according to Ray Galvin of Tanner & Hall, Ltd., 237 South Brand boulevard, who stated yesterday afternoon that a few cars were on hand for immediate delivery for the first time since the 1922 models were announced in June.

Mr. Galvin is quite positive that these cars will not remain in the display room more than a day or two. One of his reasons is the fact that three cars were delivered in one day this week. Another carload of Buicks arrived yesterday morning, completing a consignment of five carloads in two weeks.

"We have all we can get right now," stated Mr. Galvin. "I would advise you to place your order now if you want Christmas delivery. There is going to be an awful increase in the demand for these cars after the first of the year."

REAL RECEPTION TO J. A. NEWTON CO. IN NEW HOME

Electrical Concern Now at 154 South Brand; Program and Social Time Enjoyed

The J. A. Newton Electric company yesterday afternoon and night in its new quarters at 154 South Brand boulevard, held a genuine housewarming wth music, refreshments and sociability.

The Newton orchestra, recruited exclusively from employes, played from the balcony. It consisted of A. M. Kelley, violin; L. W. Mason, banjo; Miss Helen Kapus, piano, and L. Buss, saxophone. O. W. Anderson and W. L. Hyde sang solos.

Guests were served with angel food cake, lemon cream pie and hot biscuits, all made upon the premises in a Westinghouse electric range oven on the right side of the spacious storeroom by Mrs. Mada Sunderman, demonstrator for the Los Angeles branch of the Illinois Electric companay. Fruit punch was served at the left of the room.

Large complimentary bouquets, tokens from wholesale houses, friendly competitors and the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, were in evidence in conspicuous place.

Tribute From Employes

A large floral horseshoe was presented to Mr. Newton by his employes in honor of the occasion. He was deeply touched by their thoughtfulness and stated that he could not commence to express his appreciation of the energetic, self-sacrificing spirit which had made it possible for the establishment to open according to schedule.

French gray is the color of the interior woodwork. To a height of about ten feet the walls are surfaced with a soft tinted wall paper. Above this are blank panels for mural paintings. The ceiling and upper walls are of white plaster to reflect a maximum of light. Rubberoid strips deaden sound upon the cement floor.

A holiday atmosphere pervades the establishment. Behind the right window stands a large electric lighted tinsel strewn, red and green trimmed Christmas tree. Streamers of red and green are draped from the ceiling lights to the side walls. Upon the front of the balcony are two unique ornaments of long stemmed artificial red poinsettias. On the top of a counter at the right side of the room are two small artificial palms. Around the walls are twined the holiday colors.

Displays Well Arranged

The executive offices are upon a skylighted mezzanine floor trimmed in French gray, reached by a carpeted stairway at the left.

The center of the room is occupied by an Eden, Sunnyside, Blue Bird and Laundry Queen washing machines. Close by Miss Bertha Skelton, demonstrator for the Los Angeles branch of the Illinois Electric companay, operated a Westinghouse electric sewing machine. Near her Mrs. E. Lanning of Los Angeles demonstrated the Western Electric dishwasher.

Near the door on the right side of the entrance is a battery of vacuum cleaners ready to be demonstrated upon the brown carpet upon which they stand.

A glass show counter attractively exhibits household electrical appliances. Behind this, against the wall, stands a perpendicular show case filled with shiny percolators. Upon a table nearby stands a squadron of brightly polished electric irons in battleship formation. Behind them stands a combination phonograph and table lamp of bronze and silk.

Big Electric Sign

Near to the door on the left side of the entrance are models of the Utenco and Simplex ironers. Close by is a glass show case filled with Christmas tree globes and flash lights. Along the left wall is arranged the incandescent globe supply department.

Small carpeted, soft-tinted rooms at the rear display ornamental electric fixtures for the home.

"J. A. Newton Electric Company" in tree green and bright red letters upon a flattened diamond, bordered by electric lights, announces the permanence of the new location in the Chamber of Commerce building.

STATES DECLINE OF AMERICAN INDIAN PROVEN UNTRUE

Former Official Says That Population Has Increase of 30,000 in 1920

WASHINGTON — The American Indians are not a decadent race, but, on the contrary, are a growiing people, with a promising future, according to the opinion of Cato Sells, Commissioner of Indian Affairs during the Wilson administration.

The prevailing belief that the American Indians are steadily declining in number is described by the former commissioner as a "fallacy." The misconception that the American Indians are in imminent danger of extinction is probably based upon the opinion that in pre-Colonial days the native population was much greater than at present. As a matter of fact, it has never been authentically determined just how many Indians were in this country at the time of the coming of the white man, and the most generally-accepted figures are merely estimates.

"The Indian population at one time was apparently diminishing; at another time it was fixed; but it has never been decadent," Sells declares.

Active imagination and adventurous spirit characterized the age in which America was discovered. It was an age of exaggeration, when information grew out of fancy as weil as fact.

Pioneers' Legends

The pioneers in this country, as they learned of the vast expanse of territory beyond their settlements on the Atlantic coast, became imbued with the idea that Indians swarmed in countless hordes over the enormous stretches of forest and plain. Naturally, the legendary lore of an immense Indian population during colonial days became the general belief of succeeding generations and is the prevalent opinion today. But, according to Sells, neither exact knowledge nor reasonable deduction sustains this widely-existent belief.

The first Federal census of the Indian population, taken in 1859, was largely an estimate and is supposed to have included many Mexicans and aliens residing in Indian country at the time, in view of the fact that the census of ten years later showed a decrease of approximately 150,000 Indians.

The Indian population of the United States in 1910 was 304,950, and in 1920 it was 336,337, an increase in the decade of 31,387. The only year in this period in which the Indian population failed to record an increase was the year of the Spanish influenza epidemic. This, in the opinion of Sells, is conclusive evidence that the American Indians are far from the brink of total extinction.

Absorb White Man's Customs

When the white man came to this country the Indian was an untamed, uncivilized savage. Gradually, as the white men increased in numbers in the newly-discovered continent, resultantly expanding throughout the country, the Indians were thrown into constant contact with the new civilization. Detrimental to both reds and whites for many years, marked by terrible slaughter and bloodshed, this contact brought about a slow but sure change in the life of the red man. Slowly, perhaps against his will, the Indian inevitably absorbed the white man's civilization, his bad and good characteristics, until he became an established part in the everyday life of the nation.

Times have changed. Today the Indian is one of the least troublesome of all the various human elements that constitute the population of this great country. The Indian race has progressed amazingly. From a wild, savage existence of several hundred years ago, when tribe fought tribe, bands fought bands, dissension and conflict surged over the land, all impelled by the impulses and desires of savage life, the Indians have become for the most part peaceable, law-abiding citizens.

The old-time paper-backed dime-novels, containing the thrilling and familiar, "Bang! Another Indian bit the dust!" are today on the shelf with ancient-history volumes. No longer is the Indian, a barbarous savage, lusting for blood, but a prime factor in America's industrial and agricultural activities.

George T. Smith Says Prices Have Reached Low Level

George T. Smith of the Willys-Knight and Overland Sales Agency states that it is evident in the manner which the public is buying Willys-Knight and Overland cars, the greater majority of people realize that this line of cars is being priced now at rock bottom prices. If any further revision of prices takes place, it will undoubtedly be of an upward trend, he says.

P. S. Dupont, president of the General Motors Corporation, in a recent interview stated that he looks for nothing else but a general improvement in prices as a result of the recent up-turn in steel, lumber and other products and is of the firm opinion that prices of automobiles will follow.

Several others of the large manufacturers have made similar statements during the last few weeks. The material situation has stiffened greatly and the belief is general that automobile prices will be higher before they are lower.

"Of course there are some manufacturers who have not as yet brought their prices down to where they should be and those concerns may cut their prices somewhat and should to agree more with the values which they are giving. Generally speaking, prices are too low, and the buying public who are really in the market for cars are realizing this to some extent and giving careful consideration to the product of those manufacturers who have made every ounce of reduction possible in their prices," concluded Mr. Smith.

It's Pleasure to Sell Chevrolet Cars In Glendale, He Says

One reason why buyers of the Chevrolet are anxious to get immediate delivery according to O. W. Tarr, 510 East Broadway, is because they desire to put them into service immediately. He says that a great many of his brand of cars are sold for mercantile purposes and that their purchase is a strict business proposition.

"The people of Glendale are certainly taking kindly to the Chevrolet," remarked Mr. Tarr. "Every buyer is so enthused that he tells his neighbors. Aside from being profitable, it is a pleasure to sell these cars."

PROPOSE WAGE REDUCTION

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Wages of train service, shop and maintenance of way workers on railroads in the eastern classification territory will be cut from 10 to at least 30 per cent about Christmas, if schedules formulated at a meeting of the bureau of information of eastern railways, in the Grand Central terminal, is upheld by the United States railway labor board. Operating officials voted to this effect and announced that each road would confer individually with its employes beginning early next week.

DEFUNCT BROKER INDICTED

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 10.—George V. Halliday, defunct broker, and Harry Turner, editor of a fortnightly magazine, were jointly indicted by the federal grand jury here for alleged counterfeiting of $1,500,000 in J. P. Morgan & Co. interim receipts for French government bonds. Both men were indicted on five counts. Halliday and Turner are free under $15,000 bonds each. They were arrested Thanksgiving day.

86 Carloads Sold
45 More Carloads on the Way

The increasing popularity of the

Willys-Knight and Overland Cars

is evidenced by the ready sale of nearly all the cars received in the largest freight shipment of the year, in a period of only thirty days. Right now we are unable to deliver any Willys-Knight roadsters or coupes, or Overland sedans due to the entire stock in Southern California being quickly absorbed, but will have in next week in the 45-carload shipment a big new stock of these popular models for delivery before Christmas.

Do not make the mistake of comparing the

with lower priced cars, styled 'just as good'

Compare the Willys-Knight with any car for $3000 or under on the market today, and you will realize the extraordinary value which the WILLYS-OVERLAND COMPANY is giving you in their new 1922 models.

Rich, distinctive body lines of uncomparable beauty.

Simple, fool-proof motor construction.

No valves to give endless trouble. Eliminatingnoise, and loss of power through leaky compression.

Oiling system regulated by pull of motor, not by the speed. Force feed to all bearing surfaces through fine strain.

Thermo-syphon cooling system. Water circulation on all sides of combustion chamber, insuring the coolest possible motor. A construction impossible on poppet valve motors.

A chassis designed by one of the best known engineers in the country.

Allow us to show you the different models and further explain the superior details of construction of this "Silent Knight."

C. L. Jenkins and W. C. Graham Build Homes in Glendale

"Builders of Good Homes" is the phrase under which C. L. Jenkins and W. C. Graham operate from their headquarters at 208 East Broadway. Having just completed the erection of four room bungalow for O. N. Sorenson on the rear of his lot at 724 North Louise street, they are commencing work upon a similar house for the front of his lot.

ORANGEMEN MAKE ASSAULT

DUBLIN, Dec. 10.—Special trains conveying Sinn Fein prisoners homeward after their release was granted by amnesty, were attacked in Ulster by Orangemen who threw stones and fired revolvers, wounding five Sinn Feiners. Women participated in the attack. Stephen Tracey, a brother of Agnes Tracey, chief soprano for John McCormack, was seriously wounded. The attack is the first by Orangemen since the peace treaty was signed.

SENTENCES 40 DEFENDANTS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 10.—Forty defendants in the Muncie liquor conspiracy case were sentenced by Judge Albert Anderson in federal court here. The sentences ranged from fines of one day in jail to two years at the Leavenworth prison. The heaviest sentence was that of Timothy Owens, justice of the peace, who was ordered to jail for two years. Kenneth Spurgeon, wealthy manufacturer, was fined $200 and all costs. Judge Anderson accompanied the sentences with a denunciaion of the federal parole system, saying it is "mockery" to sentence men if they are to receive early clemency.

'DOC' WILLIAMS MAY GO

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 10.—The athletic board of control of the University of Minnesota has voted to terminate the contracts of all athletic coaches at the end of the present school year. This includes "Doc" Williams, football coach of the university for the past twenty-one years. The action followed the presentation of resolutions drawn up by the Alumni association asking the abrogation of contracts of all coaches.

Glendale Wins Seventh in Scholarship Awards

Glendale has been given seventh place for scholarship among the 227 high schools of California sending students to Stanford university, according to Principal George U. Moyse who has just received notification of the high grades made by two local alumni at that institution.

Miss Ethel M. Shaull, daughter of S. W. Shaull, former member of the high school board, made a general average last year of 92.36 or 7.46 points over the average of women scholars in attendance.

Howard J. Durand, son of S. B. Durand of LaCanada, made an average of 80.65 which is 6.75 above the masculine average.

Principal Moyse is quite proud of the records made by these two students and considers them a creditable reflection upon Glendale Union High school.

The wood of which the Ark was built has been identified by scientists as cypress.

OYSTER PROPAGATION

Oyster shells and other objects planted on oyster grounds to provide points for the attachment of the spawn are called "cultch." Tin cans, bits of crockery, brush, etc., were formerly much used for this purpose, but now cultch consists almost entirely of shells, and especially oyster shells.

A Machine That Will Catch You If You Tell Fibs

Science has discovered that, although you may be able to tell a lie and keep a straight face, you can't tell a lie and maintain normal vision. It has been demonstrated by tests in the laboratory and in private practice, with the aid of the retinoscope. Photo shows Dr. Bates demonstrating the retinoscope, with Miss Emily C. Lierman for a subject.

Hard Boiled Egg More Popular Than Ever, Figures Show

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10.—That omeletts, poached and just plain "hard boiled" eggs are proving more popular than ever before is indicated by the shipments of California eggs, which so far this year are reported to have smashed all previous records.

According to figures disclosed here by James P. Britt, Deputy Director of Markets for the California Department of Agriculture, poultry producers report that more than 162,000,000 eggs have been shipped from the state this year. Practically all of these have been consumed in eastern homes, but a few have crossed over into Canada, where it is still possible to stir up a real egg-nogg.

Poultry producers base their estimate of the number of eggs shipped out of the state through the records kept of the number of carloads of shipments. There are 360 eggs to a case, 450 cases to a car, and something more than 1,000 cars have been shipped out of California so far this year.

Britt says that egg shipping has reached such a science that it is now possible to serve fresh eggs, produced in California, in the restaurants of the Strand, in London. In recent months large shipments of California eggs have been transferred to England, where they are regarded as quite a delicacy. The eggs are treated by a scientific process which keeps them fresh for a considerable time.

Unnecessary Noises Cause of Profanity, Says Chicago Doctor

CHICAGO — Unnecessary noises are responsible for the terrible nervousness of citizens in the great American cities, for the loss of countless hours of sleep and the swearing indulged in by even the most highly respected persons. Dr. Willis O. Nance, of Chicago, told the American Civic Association, in convention here.

"Unnecessary city noises," declared Dr. Nance, "are the bane of metropolitan existence. They murder sleep, assassinate mental rest, shatter our nerves, develop profanity and indirectly shorten our lives.

"These noises are not the din but the knell of civilization."

Dr. Nance said there is little doubt but that many nervous wrecks are created each year by the incessant din and clamor to which the average city resident is continually subjected. He said that in Chicago, New York and Philadelphia there are more kinds of useless noises than in all the cities of Europe combined. He advocated a campaign of education to arouse public sentiment against the continuance of noise nuisances.

Stocks and Markets

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—The stock market closed irregular today. Transactions were on small scales. The oil issues were in demand, Mexican petroleum moving up to 115 and Royal Dutch to 50½. Utah Copper reacted 65 to 64¾.

There was little doing in railroad stocks.

Total sales today were 471,000. Total for week, 4,302,000.

Bonds today $9,181,000, for the week $97,138,000.

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—All grains held within narrow limits on the board of trade and the market generally was without feature.

Wheat closed ⅛ to ¾ lower; corn ⅛ up to ¼ lower; oats ⅛ to ⅛ lower, and provisions higher.

"YANKEE DOODLE"

The origin of "Yankee Doodle" is unknown. The words were probably written by Edward Banks between 1775 and 1777. The tune has been ascribed to several countries, but is probably English. It was known as early as 1767.

W. N. Rohwedder Is Entirely Satisfied With Classified Ads

W. N. Rohwedder of 336 West Pioneer Drive advertised in Thursday's edition of The Glendale Evening News for a woman to do family washing. He came to the office last night to state that his wife had six applicants during the day.

"I'll say that classified advertisements in your paper pay."

Only three minutes before a plasterer who had advertised for work got two replies for his 30-cent ad. Yesterday afternoon a real estate man said he had "smoked out" five people with desirable property for sale in order to supply the demand. He used The Glendale Evening News classified columns, of course.

Answers to many of the ads come from outside of Glendale and outside of the state, showing the general circulation of this paper. Six months ago a lumberman advertised for a partner. Recently a query came from Marshall, Ill., about this opportunity. Hardly a day passes that this office does not receive a similar report.

If you have anything to buy, sell, trade or want help or work or want to rent a house or loan money The Glendale Evening News provides the answer.

INITIATIVE FROM EUROPE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 10.—The United States is of the opinion that the initiative in European relief matters should be taken by the nations of Europe and not by this country, it was said at the White House. The president having announced in a message to congress that this government stands ready to aid Russia, it was indicated that there will be no further steps taken unless the matter is initiated by some other government.

KILLED IN AIRCRAFT CRASH

HOBART BOSWORTH'S SUPPORTING CAST INCLUDES STARS

Celebrated Players Are Seen in Latest Production of Virile Tale of Yukon

Screendom's most virile actor, Hobart Bosworth, in "Blind Hearts," an Associated Producers attraction, a great outdoor drama of the Alaskan gold rush days, is announced as the big feature at the T. D. & L. theatre for tomorrow. The program today includes five acts of Meiklejohn & Dunn vaudeville and the feature picture.

In this entertaining and unusual character story, the star has a role that surpasses all of his previous vehicles even including his famed portrayals in "The Sea Wolf," "Behind the Door" and "Below the Surface."

The opening scenes are some of the most beautiful snow shots ever filmed. They are taken in the icefields of the Bering Straits. The final scenes were filmed in an open boat during a terrific storm in San Francisco Bay.

Some Excellent Talent

The all-star cast supporting Bosworth includes some excellent screen talent. Madge Bellamy, noted New York beauty, who has played on the stage in "Dear Brutus" and other successes, was loaned through the courtesy of Thomas H. Ince for the leading feminine role.

"Blind Hearts," incidentally marks Bosworth's first feature as an independent producer. The picture is presented by the Hobart Bosworth Productions, Inc.

Fiction Character Cause of Suicide

BOSTON, Dec. 10.—Jealousy over "Anna," a romantic young person who existed only in fiction, was responsible for the suicide of pretty Jennie McArthur, nurse in a local hospital. Ernest B. Hughes, former sweetheart of the dead girl, thus explains her mysterious suicide:

After having registered in a rooming house as "Barbara Gratson," Miss McArthur was found dead in her gas-filled room.

Hughes, who is of the medical profession, has been doing some writing and was until recently engaged on a novel entitled "The Song of Sweet Anna." He declares he was much surprised when, upon showing his fiancee the manuscript of the novel, she became angered and tore it to shreds, believing the heroine of the story was pictured after a real person.

Hughes says that at the time he expected the matter to be "patched up," but instead he next heard of his sweetheart as a suicide.

Aged French Woman Kills Self and Horse

PARIS, Dec. 10.—"My only friend in the world must die and I have decided to die also." Such was a missive found by the police commissioner at Reconvaux, in Central France, when called in to inquire as to the disappearance of Madame Octavia Brochard, one of the oldest inhabitants of the village. Mystified as to the meaning of this message, he began questioning surrounding inhabitants and discovered that Madame Brochard's friend was an old horse she possessed. Following an accident the horse had been condemned by veterinaries and the same day horse and owner disappeared. Later the bodies of both were found in a canal. The old woman had tied a heavy stone round the horse's neck and one round her own and had dived off a little bridge, taking the horse with her.

Can Long Beach Man Really Petrify Wood?

LONG BEACH, Dec. 10.—Nature has met another rival.

This time it is a Southern California man, who claims he is able to petrify wood.

Assertions to this effect were made by C. R. Edwards, an explorer, of this city, who said he was able to petrify wood in a remarkably short period of time.

Edwards related that he noticed that the ground in the vicinity of petrified forests was heavy in mineral content and that he believed the trees became petrified when the minerals were drawn into the tree cells in liquid form.

Edwards set to work to duplicate nature's feat and stated that his experiments have met with success.

PATHE INTO RECEIVERSHIP

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Receivers have been appointed for the Pathe Frere Phonograph company by Judge Garvin in the United States District court in Brooklyn. The liabilities were given as more than $3,000,000 with assets as more than $4,000,000. The action was voluntary and is believed to have been caused by the general depression in the phonograph business, heavy price cutting in the trade and stringency of ready cash.

WHO WOULDN'T APOLOGIZE

SEDALIA, Mo.—Here's something else to add to your record book: An apology to a judge for "remarks out of order" is worth $150. When Prosecuting Attorney Donald S. Lamm made remarks which Judge H. B. Shain construed to be in contempt of court Lamm was "led to slaughter." When he apologized, however, Judge Shain remitted his fine of $150.

Jazz Music to Speed Stenographers' Work

HONOLULU—A Real use for jazz music has been discovered by Mrs. A. N. Lincoln, a Honolulu teacher of stenography.

With ner pupils in position before their typewriters, Mrs. Lincoln puts Irving Berlin's latest on the victrola, and she says that the fingers of the embryo typists fairly fly over the keys to the toe-and-finger-tickling strains. For beginners she uses more sedate marches and two-steps.

No experiments with jazz have been tried in shorthand classes, it being feared that a sudden toot of the saxophone might cause the pupil to put a kink in the tail of his pothooks which would alter its meaning, perhaps disastrously.

WHEELING IS SCRATCHING

WHEELING, W. Va.—Hundreds of Wheeling people are "digging" themselves. They are not former soldiers loaded with cooties. It's something worse than cooties. An epidemic of the seven-year itch has broken out here, and physicians declare there are hundreds of cases in the city. Urgent warnings have been sent out that the disease is very contagious. Hundreds of people have complained during the last three weeks of itching, and they were of the opinion that it was caused by some article they had eaten. Many blamed tomatoes as the cause. When the disease had gained considerable headway and physicians were consulted it was diagnosed as the genuine seven-year itch.

BR' RABBIT HELD UP TRAIN

WOOSTER, Ohio — Postmaster Henry Carl, of Jeromesville, reports that a passenger train on the L. A. & S. Railroad stopped just outside the village. "The passengers saw a man with a shotgun emerge from the engine cab, followed by members of the crew," the postmaster stated. "Soon a rabbit was routed out and shot. Then the train crew returned to their proper places and the train resumed its journey."

REHEARING IN RATE CASE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 10.—The Interstate Commerce Commission has ordered a rehearing in the case of the interstate rates on grain, grain products and hay in the mountain and Pacific groups. Rates on these commdoities were recently ordered reduced and the reduced rates will remain in effect pending the rehearing on December 4.

SKETCH HEADLINER OF GLENDALE'S VAUDEVILLE

Latest Lois Weber Photoplay Feature Also Will Be Seen This Evening

"Saving Abbey," a dramatic sketch that carries a real human punch, will be the featured act on the Glendale theatre program tonight, a complete change of bill with the wonderful film feature, "What Do Men Want" as a special attraction. The sketch is presented by Frances Spencer & Company, able actors who handle a difficult subject in a splendid manner.

The La Verne sisters—of course, that isn't their real name—are beauties who sing and dance divinely. They have a quick change of costumes that adds spice to their number. DeVoe & Hersey contribute comedy to the bill while the Orpheum Argentine stars will play here again at popular request. Spanish songs and tangos from their native country are featured by this trio of artists.

The Original Marshall, one of the most dexterous xylophone players on "big time," will prove a splendid musical treat. Those who have heard Mr. Marshall agree that he is a master of his art.

Masterpiece on Screen

When the word was flashed to the thousands of moving picture exhibitors throughout the country that Lois Weber had produced her masterpiece, there was a mad scramble for prints with comparatively few questions asked about "What Do Men Want?"

Such tremendous interest in Lois Weber's productions in the part of exhibitors strongly indicates what a wealth of genuine screen entertainment is in store for picture fans.

Lois Weber has woven into this powerful drama of life a theme so universal as to virtually say to every man who sees it, "This means you." It is a gripping narrative that makes men see and understand the things they really do want, and supplies wives and mothers and sweethearts with knowledge of what makes for happiness and contentment among men.

Break Even? Then You Are Not a Gambler!

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Gather around closely, gents, and let Prosecuting Attorney Mueller, of St. Louis county, give you a definition of gambling. He is replying to a query from Sheriff Willmann as to "what is gambling?"

"Well, sheriff," says Mueller, "it's about like this: If a man plays a game of chance and gets back more or less than he put up, he's gambling. If he gets back just what he puts up, that's not gambling."

Now, let the defense contend that their clients "broke even."
